It may be physical (as was Dan's), academic, emotional, economic or spiritual. The minimum length of the essay is 250 words (one typed double spaced page).

In addition to relating an example of persistence, as described above, please discuss the effect of how the understanding of persistence; in the face of adversity (any type of struggle or suffering), is important in the individual's life. This can be shown by discussing how this can strengthen your relationship to God or contribute to your success in attaining your goals, or both, as was the case in Dan Holoubek's life. As part of your essay, please include your area of study you plan to go into in college (college major).
