By Rich Lemburg

As the 2022-23 school year comes to an end and I look back at the school year I want to thank the students, parents and school board for a fantastic school year. This year has been a great year on so many different levels. I am very proud of the students and staff and what has been accomplished this past year across the board and anxiously await on where this year's success allows us to go these upcoming years.

I would like to congratulate the graduating Class of 2023 and wish them good luck in their future. We wish them the very best and hope they have great success down the road and have a fantastic life after Clarkson Public Schools.

I would also like to thank and recognize four teachers who will be leaving us at the end of the school year, Ann Cerv, (39 years all in Clarkson) Wes Pokorny, (28 years all in Clarkson), Tracy Cooper (33 years) and Cindy Settje (39 years) as they retire or move on to other destinations. They have been valuable members of our family and we wish them the best as they move onto their future endeavors.

Even though we are wrapping up the school year we still have many events coming up on the calendar. Please follow our online calendar for the schedule of high school camps and activities for this summer. We also have the flyers for summer youth camps on the website.

Please remember to sign up your children for the K-5 Patriot Academy. This year's dates and schedule are listed below.

As we reach the end of another school year, it's a time to reflect on all the hard work and accomplishments of our students, teachers, and staff. We can all be proud of what we have achieved. Few schools have the ability to say that they have participated in State finals & tournaments in all three sports seasons! Our students have shown resilience and determination in their studies, adapting to new ways of learning, and really showing ownership of their education. Our teachers and staff have gone above and beyond to provide the best possible education and support to our students, ensuring that they are prepared for their future.

As we bid farewell to another successful school year, we want to thank everyone who has contributed to making it a success. We look forward to welcoming our returning students in the fall and meeting new students who will be joining us. We wish all our students the best of luck in their future endeavors and encourage them to continue to strive for excellence in all that they do. GO PATS!!

On April 21, the High School Band and Choir members competed at District Music Contest at Columbus High School. The schools ranged from Class A to D. The band received a rating of 3, Choir received a 2 rating, Clarinet Trio of Kendall Schneider, Rowan Stodola, and Sophie Morfeld received a 2, Ashly Guillen vocal and flute solo received a 2, Rosie Guillen received a 2 on her bass clarinet solo, Ella Kappel received a 2 on her clarinet solo, and Teagan Baumert received a 2 on her Tenor Saxophone solo. Math News

By Tony Horacek

The end of the year is hectic as always as a result of student absences for track, golf, and various other events. Summer is in sight so we have to work hard to keep our focus so we keep moving forward.

April and the beginning of May are spent working with logarithms, exponential functions and the trigonometric functions of Sine, Cosine and Tangent. The geometry classes applied the Pythagorean Theorem and used the trig functions while working with right triangles. They also learned to apply the Law of Sines and Cosines to non-right triangles.

Algebra II learned to solve exponential equations/inequalities and to use and apply various properties of logarithms. PreCalc worked with various trig functions. As we scramble to the end of the year, we will have to do a flurry of testing. The students will complete Star Math tests, NSCAS tests and then review and take final exams.

The theme of the 2023 Family Literacy Night was BeLieve You Can. The entire event was centered around the importance of bees to our way of life and how we eat.

The evening started with some information about our Title I program and the importance of literacy to our children. Everyone then moved into the new gym for some fun bee activities and information. Ella Kappel brought some of her bee gear and talked to the kids about what it is like raising bees. The honey tasting table was the next table. At this table kids learned how the things that bees pollinate determines what the honey tastes like. There was also a table where kids could make the life cycle of a bee out of clay and preserve it on a plate. Students were encouraged to find the hidden bees around the gym. If they found a bee, they could pick out a book to take home. Then they came to where Mrs. Hanel read stories about bees to the kids.

Our next table was a coloring table. This table had Bee bookmarks for the kids to color and take home. The last table was where students made bee baths. It was a great time and I can't wait to do next year's Family Literacy Night. I would like to thank everyone that volunteered to help make last night a success and another big thank you to everyone who came to learn about bees.

Three 8th Graders placed third in Tech Contest

The Nebraska Educational Service Units (ESUs) held their annual Digital Citizenship Symposium online again this year! The outreach was impressive because of the flexibility of the online delivery of digital citizenship content.

The content, which was available on the Nebraska Digital Citizenship Symposium website, included information and activities for grades K-4, 5-6, and 7-12. Heather Callihan, Technology Integrationist at Northwest Public Schools and teachers/students from Lincoln Public Schools recorded videos this year that HS students and teachers could access online. ESU staff also curated content for grades K-4 and 5-8. The team of ESU leaders who facilitated the event were very pleased with the participation. The Nebraska DCS website was visited over 4,100 times from October through April by people from all over Nebraska, 8 states, and 5 other countries! Students had the opportunity to earn a certificate of completion for their grade level content, which included Media Balance, Making Good Decisions, and Creation Over Consumption. Almost 600 certificates were awarded to students successfully completing the unit assessments!

The ESU group also hosted a statewide Digital Citizenship Message Contest. Students were invited to submit a Digital Citizenship poster or a Public Service Announcement communicating something they had learned. Students in grades K-12 submitted entries online and were judged in four grade group categories. Of the 132 contest entries, 21 award winners were selected and announced in April.

Clarkson Public Schools had a winner this year. Ava Baumert, Hayley Podany and Claire Holoubek earned the third place medals for the Grade 6-8 Public Service Announcement (PSA) Contest. Their teacher is Mr. Matt Murren.

Clarkson Close Up Students Travel to Washington DC!

At the beginning of April, the Close Up students traveled to Washington DC. The 35 students and 11 adults spent four days touring, exploring, and learning about our nation's government. The Close Up organization provided us with a student and teacher program that was led by trained professionals to give us insight and hidden details about Washington DC and the memorials and monuments within it.

The 6th through 8th grade students were in groups with students from California, Montana, Wyoming, and Arizona. They had workshop time where they learned other people's perspective on government and were able to voice their opinions. Both the students and adults went on a variety of tours throughout the city.

Some of the highlights were touring and learning about the National Mall monuments and memorials during the day and experiencing the light show at night. They were also given the opportunity to ride the metro, tour the Arlington National Cemetery, and watch the changing of the guard of the Unknown Soldiers. The students enjoyed meeting new friends and having new experiences like participating in a dance-off outside of the White House!

This once in a lifetime experience would not have been possible without the support from you! Thank you for your support of our fundraisers this past year. You helped make this trip possible.

Thank you!
Tami Sayers & Karly Gall

Dear Clarkson Public Schools Community,

After 28 years of teaching kindergarten, I have decided that it is time for me to try something else. I am incredibly grateful for the opportunity that I have had to teach your children and to be a part of this wonderful community. It has been an honor to serve as a kindergarten teacher for so many years.

I would like to extend a special thanks to the administration and staff of Clarkson Public Schools for their unwavering support throughout my career. They have been there to help me through the good times and the bad, and I am forever grateful for their guidance and friendship. I would also like to thank the parents of my students for entrusting me with the care and education of their children. It has been a privilege to work with such dedicated and supportive families.

Most importantly, I would like to express my gratitude to the children who have been in my classroom over the years. It has been a joy to watch them grow and learn, and to be a part of their journey as they navigate the world. The memories that I have of each and every one of them will stay with me for the rest of my life.

I want to give a special thanks to Dawn Bunner, who has done more for the students of Clarkson than people know. Dawn, thank you for all that you have done for our school and for being a true friend.

While I may have earned a degree and a Master's degree from Wayne State, my teaching philosophy is mostly influenced by the lessons my parents instilled in me and how I was raised. My parents deserve most of the credit for who I am as a teacher and a person.

As I move on to the next chapter of my life, I will always treasure my time at Clarkson Public Schools. Thank you for the opportunity to serve as a kindergarten teacher and for the memories that I will cherish forever.

LTFO,
Mr. P

1st Grade News

By Karly Gall

As we come to the end of the school year, I want to take a moment to celebrate all that our first-grade students have accomplished this year. It has been a year filled with growth, learning, and lots of fun!

Throughout the year, the first graders have worked hard to develop their reading, writing, and math skills. They have explored new concepts, asked questions, and learned through hands-on activities and engaging lessons. I am so proud of the progress they have made and will continue to make for years to come. This summer Clarkson Public Schools will be continuing our Patriot Academy. I highly recommend signing your child up for this educational opportunity!

Beyond academics, the first graders have also learned important social and emotional skills. They have practiced cooperation, kindness, and empathy towards one another. These skills are so important for your child's development. To practice these skills, we've published a book with Mrs. Sayers 7th grade class, learned new board games and celebrated others' success, and worked together to accomplish different goals. This summer, encourage your child to get outside and use their imagination to play and learn with others to continue to develop these skills!

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank all of our families for their support throughout the year. Your involvement in your child's education has been invaluable and greatly appreciated.

I wish all of the first graders a happy and safe summer, filled with lots of opportunities for fun and learning. I look forward to seeing all of our students back in the fall, ready to continue learning!

Spanish News

By Vicky Miller

The 7th graders are working on a unit called Volando cometas (flying kites). They are able to describe all kinds of kites (size, color, shape). They can tell what kind of weather would or would not be ideal for flying a kite. They have been exploring several different kite festivals. They will soon be able to talk about different activities with kites and give their opinion about them. I think the highlight of the unit will be following a Spanish tutorial to make kites of their own; and then, of course, we will just have to test them out!

The Spanish 1 students are delving into Comida Callejera. Who doesn't like to talk about food?! We are uncovering some popular street foods like empanadas and tacos, among many others. The tacos that most of us are accustomed to are a far cry from authentic tacos, so there's plenty to learn! We will talk about places to eat and give our opinion by writing a review. We are comparing the price of eating some of these foods in a restaurant versus making them at home. We'll also be able to ask and answer a myriad of questions about the foods and restaurants before the unit is over.

Spanish 2 is on their last unit of the year, Desayunos del mundo (Breakfast around the world). They've looked at resources about the benefits of eating breakfast, learned about iconic breakfasts in several Spanish-speaking countries, compared breakfasts in various countries, spent 2 entire days just talking about cereal, compared several different breakfast drinks, used reviews to pick a new restaurant they'd like to visit for breakfast, and evaluated their own breakfast habits (they'll be making a plan for how to improve their habits soon as well). They will get a chance to promote a special breakfast from their own neighborhood (My guess is kolaches will top the list!), and they'll have conversations about all topics breakfast.

Spanish 3/4 has been testing out a new class format to help keep us moving forward even amidst all the absences due to activities this time of year. There are definitely a few tweaks I'd want to make in future years, but I think the biggest pro of this set-up has been the opportunity to focus more on our grammar skills (specifically, conjugating verb endings) on days when we only have a few students here. They chose a Spanish-speaking city around the world and have planned a week-long vacation in that city. I look forward to seeing their final products here soon!

Elementary's Field Trip to Morrill Hall

By Karly Gall

Our recent field trip to Morrill Hall was a great success! Kindergarten through third grade students had a wonderful time touring the museum and viewing the impressive collection of fossils.

Throughout the visit, the students were fascinated by the displays of dinosaur skeletons and learned about the different types of dinosaurs that roamed the earth millions of years ago. They were amazed to see how enormous these creatures were, and how different their bodies were from animals today.

The interactive exhibits and hands-on activities allowed the students to explore and understand more about the prehistoric world and how it has changed over time.

Overall, it was an unforgettable experience for the students, and we are grateful for the staff at Morrill Hall for making our visit so informative and enjoyable. We hope that this field trip will inspire our students to continue learning and exploring science.

Middle School Reading and Writing

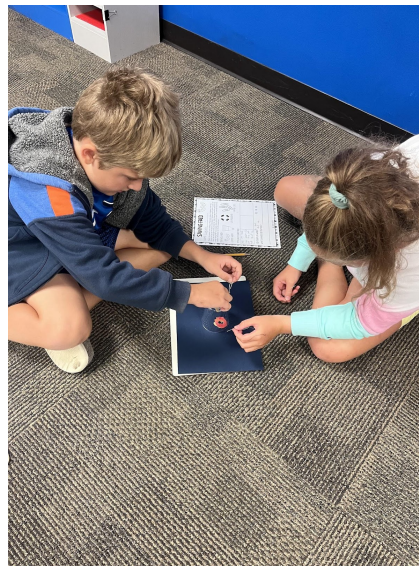

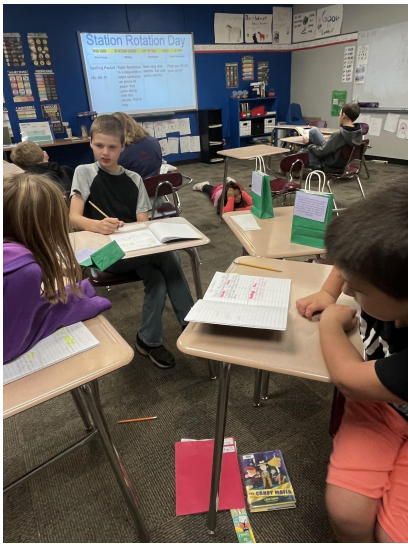

By Corissa Hays

*This has been a fantastic school year working with a wonderful group of middle schoolers.
I can't believe it's coming to an end.*

4th Grade continued to develop a strong foundation in reading skills and strategies through a variety of texts. Our focus throughout the year included main idea and details, making inferences, comparing and contrasting multiple characters, settings, and stories, analyzing text structures, vocabulary development through word analysis, discussions of text to identify purpose and point of view and to strengthen comprehension.

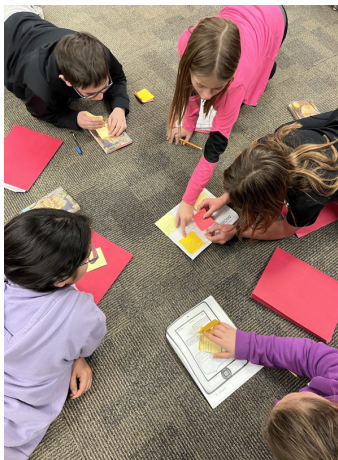

4th Grade spent a majority of time in writing increasing organizational structure in multiple writing pieces and diving deeper into grammatical concepts. We worked on informational and personal narratives, and strengthened our pieces by applying figurative language and bringing our voice into our writing.

This group of 4th graders chose to work on self-control and flexible mindsets each day in my class. The progress they made was extraordinary!

5th Grade Reading continued to work on developing literacy skills crucial for academic success. In addition to reading and understanding various genres of literature, students participated in book clubs to enhance comprehension and time management skills.

5th Grade Writing involved a deeper understanding of the writing process along with using technology to do research and format our papers on google documents. 5th graders focused on presenting poetry through a poetry slam, writing biographies, and sharing personal narratives.

6th Grade focused on how reading becomes a powerful tool in life to make sense of complex material, find information, and enjoyment in literature. We explored many types of genres and participated in a book club.

6th Grade writing was full of applying critical thinking skills and creativity through project based learning, as well as understanding the writing process. The focus was on personal and fictional narratives & argumentative and persuasive writing. We participated in culmination activities including debates and a Shark Tank competition.

It will be a first come first serve basis so please keep another slot time in mind just in case the one you wanted is taken. Please send me an email or detach the bottom of this note with the date and time you would like to have your child take lessons and have them bring it to school before the end of the year. Also mark if they are doing Instrumental, voice or both. If you want them to do both, sign up for two slots. If you have any questions, please let me know.
